We believe that having a bigger practice has many benefits, both for patients and practitioners, which enables us to provide our patients with the highest level of care. All your dental practitioners in one place We have a large team that includes general dentists , hygienists and board registered specialists in orthodontics , periodontics , endodontics , prosthodontics , paediatric dentistry and oral and maxillofacial surgeons , all working under the one roof. This allows our clinicians the opportunity to collaborate with their peers, providing the best possible care for patients. It also makes the process of referring patients that much easier, as the specialists will have immediate access to the patients dental files. Not all cases are simple, and it is sometimes necessary for patients to be treated by multiple clinicians in various areas of dentistry, with all the necessary practitioners in the one place this is so much easier as it allows the peer review process to be coordinated and well-planned. The simple transition of giving patient care to clinicians who specialise in a particular field or have a strong interest in a specific area promotes better comprehensive dental care for our patients. With a large number of staff it also means we are able to offer patients extended hours as well as out of hours emergency dental care . Dental emergencies don't always happen during the working week hours, so we also offer weekend hours for patients to come in for emergency treatment. The best technology Sharing the cost of dental equipment across a large team is another huge benefit. With the scale of Smile Solutions, we are able to purchase and maintain the most advanced technological equipment, including CEREC , lasers , digital radiology , dental microscopy and 3D imaging, which all our clinicians have access to. Having this technology, along with the sharpest minds and skills in one place enables us to offer our patients treatment options that may otherwise be overlooked or simply unavailable. As people continue to pursue the perfect smile, cosmetic dentistry as a field continues to grow. At Smile Solutions we have a number of dentists with great interest in cosmetic dentistry, including different treatments such as teeth whitening, orthodontics, dental implants and gum treatment. We are able to offer all the latest technology and the best quality products necessary for cosmetic dentistry to help our patients get the smile they've always wanted. For us it's all about patients no longer having to spend time, energy and money going from clinic to clinic to receive various treatments. Whether you need to visit the orthodontist for braces, have a root canal , or get your wisdom teeth extracted, you can get it all done at your Melbourne dentist Smile Solutions.

Come in for a consultation with one of our experienced dentists to discuss the different dental treatment options and they can refer you to a specialist if necessary, without you ever needing to leave the building.
