After completing her medical degree, Jaclyn trained for 3 years in general and specialty surgery with the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons. During this time, she developed a keen interest in oral and maxillofacial surgery, in particular Orthognathic and trauma surgery. After completing a post-graduate diploma in Surgical Anatomy, Dr Jaclyn Wong returned to Melbourne University to complete a dental degree. She graduated with Honours in Dentistry and worked as a registrar in the field of oral and maxillofacial surgery for six years at The Royal Melbourne Hospital, Royal Dental Hospital and Austin Hospital. Jaclyn's research has included analysing the novel technique of All-on-4 implant surgery with a particular focus on the functional and clinical outcomes of zygomatic implants as a component of the All-on-4 system. She has trained with experts in this field and travelled to Portugal to learn from the inventor of the system at the Malo Clinic. Dr Jaclyn Wong worked as part of the surgical team at Malo Australia, with the first Malo clinic to open in Australia. She has been performing All-on-4® surgery now for over 15 years with predictable success and excellent outcomes. Dr Jaclyn Wong restricts her practice to oral surgery and performs complex extractions, including wisdom teeth, single and full arch implant procedures such as All on 4™, complex grafting for gum recession defects and bone defects utilising the latest technology in stem cell surgery (platelet rich fibrin PRF) and pre-prosthetic and pre-orthodontic surgeries. She is also recognised by the Australasian Academy of Dentofacial Aesthetics (AADFA) as a mentor in the field of anti-wrinkle injections, dermal fillers, thread lifting, carboxytherapy, fat dissolving treatments and PRF facial rejuvenation. Dr Jaclyn Wong is a keen skier, enjoys fine food/wine, weightlifting/crossfit and hiking and loves spending time with her 2 adorable American Akitas, Hachi and Mika.
