Oral & Maxillofacial Surgeons The Oral & Maxillofacial specialty involves the diagnosis, surgical treatment, and management of diseases, injuries, and defects affecting the mouth, gums, teeth, and jaws, including their function and appearance. Patients requiring complex oral surgery are typically referred to an Oral & Maxillofacial Surgeon, who is trained as both a dentist and a surgeon. Learn More Orthodontics Orthodontists are dental specialists who focus on correcting the position of the teeth and improving bite, as well as improving the appearance of the jaw and face. Learn More Prosthodontists Prosthodontics is a field of dentistry focusing on the restoration of teeth that require crowns, veneers, bridges, implants, dentures or any combination of these. The term prosthodontics means, literally, "tooth replacement". Learn More Periodontists Periodontists are specialists in the field of periodontics, which focuses on implant surgery, bone grafts, periodontal surgery, gum lifts, and the treatment of gingivitis and periodontal disease (gum disease). Learn More Endodontists Endodontics is a specialised field that focuses on the treatment of the tooth pulp (nerve) and the surrounding tissues of the root of a tooth. Endodontics includes a variety of procedures such as root canal therapy, endodontic treatment, treating cracked teeth and treating dental trauma. Learn More Paediatric Dentists Paediatric dentists specialise in treating the dental needs of children. They focus on the growth, development and treatment of children's teeth and jaws, as well as the prevention of dental decay. Learn More Complex Dentistry Dental concerns are not always simple or straightforward, and sometimes patients need to consult with, and be treated by, multiple clinicians in various areas of dentistry to achieve a mutually agreed goal or outcome. With our general dentists and dental specialists practising under the one roof, peer review of complex cases is made easier.
